Art Unit: 1712

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claim 1, drawn to a phosphorus-containing diglycidyl ether, classified in class 528, subclass 99.
- II. Claims 2-8, drawn to a phosphorus-containing diamine, classified in class 528, subclass 398.
- III. Claims 9 and 10, drawn to a composition comprising an epoxy monomer and a phosphorus-containing diamine, classified in class 528, subclass 108.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because:

The phosphorus-containing diglycidyl ether of Invention I is a functionally and structurally distinct monomer containing epoxy groups whereas the phosphorus-containing diamine of Invention II possesses amine groups.

Inventions (I or II) and III are related as mutually exclusive species in an intermediate-final product relationship. Distinctness is proven for claims in this relationship if the intermediate product is useful to make other than the final product (MPEP § 806.04(b), 3rd paragraph), and the species are patentably distinct (MPEP § 806.04(h)). In the instant case, the intermediate product is deemed to be useful as an intermediate reactant for the preparation of a phosphorus-containing aminoepoxy resin and the inventions are deemed patentably distinct since there is nothing on this record to show them to be obvious variants.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions anticipated by the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention:

- 1) Contingent upon the election of either Invention II, the phosphorus-containing diamines of formulae (II-1) to (II-4) of claims 5-8.
- 2) Contingent upon the election of Invention III, the phosphorus-containing diamines such as formulae (II-1) to (II-4) of claims 5-8, and the epoxy monomers such as the phosphorus-containing diglycidyl ether of formula (I) of claim 10.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, claims 1-10 are generic.

A reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

A telephone call was made to Eugene Mar on March 27, 2003 to request an oral election to the above restriction and election of species requirements, but did not result in elections being made. The reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention and species to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Upon the cancellation of claims to non-elected inventions, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
